

Temporary interim pdf

Unfortunately due to a stubbornly sluggish, continually seizing-up computer, I've been unable to complete and upload the relevant document or pdf for this link, but will do so as soon as I can.

This is a temporary message pdf - which I hope to replace with the relevant pdf by the end of Thursday 26mar13 or the Friday - computer-permitting.

I hope you can be patient and click again for it then.

With apologies,

Henry Adams, Wed. evening, 27mar13

The computer problem

The computer fault is due to the memory being 45% full on start-up, then reaching c.95% full within an hour or two's work, then taking an hour or so for me to free-up memory.

When 45% full performance is slowish, but when reaching c.95% full it is so sluggish that 50% of time the blue circle is rotating while I'm swearing with frustration, the window sometimes 'whiting out' and near to seizing up. Even scrolling can get sticky and jerky and at worst even typing in a few characters they can take a few seconds to appear. At worst - total seizure.

Thus my work productivity is made painfully frustratingly slow.
